A Word from the Editors...

To all,

This year we tried to capture all the good times we've had, there were too many to count. I am thankful to the faculty for preparing us to the greatest extent for our future lives. To all my classmates I give my warmest wishes as we turn a new page; high school is only the beginning. Thank you for making it a memorable one.

Love always,

Rakhi Desai

Hey Guys!

I just wanted to thank all of you that helped make this yearbook the best it can be. I believe that everyone worked really hard on this year's book and I know that it really paid off. I hope you all had a wonderful year of high school and wish the best to come.

With love,

Thanks to my best friend Mimi and her family for believing in me. Thank you to Mrs. Maher, Mrs.
Pijaca, and Mrs. Egan for everything. I don't think I would have made it this far without you. I love you guys. It is sad to be leaving my friends but it's nice to have great memories from
GHS. Good Luck Class of

I want to thank
Mrs. Maher, Mrs. Pijaca,
Mrs. Hughes, Mr.
McKeon, Danielle, and my mom especially for everything I could have never done it with out you guys. I love you thanks for everything.

Penny Wars

Each year during the week of homecoming NHS heats up class competition with penny wars. Each grade has their own jar, for every penny in it the class gains a point, any other coin or bill will be subtracted from the class. The proceeds are donated to charity.

Different Shades of Blue

Blue is the color of all that i wear...

What would you do for blue?

On the night before Homecoming, seniors from the class of 2010 gathered in the front of Grafton Memorial High School, cold, wet, and tired. The rain and wind was heavy, weighing down upon the class of 2010's spirit, but that didn't stop them. Through teamwork and determination the Class of 2010 united, constructing an enormous blue tent in front of the school. As the time began to wind down, the seniors departed from their grand entrance in front of the school, worrying about the anticipated snow the next morning. When they arrived the next day, they discovered soggy, wet, and sagging decorations. At first, the seniors were let down by the weather, but then realized they wouldn't let it bring them down.

Rachel's Challenge

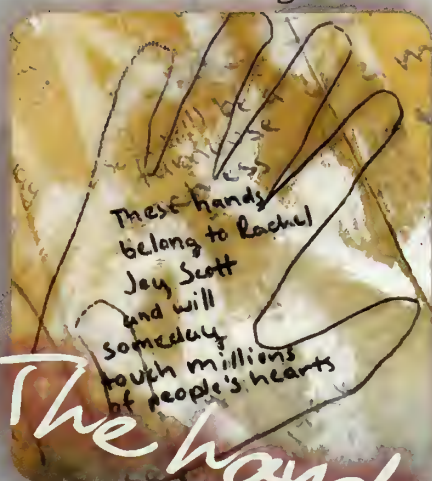

Rachel's Challenge is an organization dedicated to Rachel Scott, the first victim of the Columbine shooting. Various members of her family travel around the country to give presentations in her honor. Rachel was a strong believer of COMPASSION. In an essay she wrote shortly before her death she stated, "I have this theory that that if one person can go out of their way to show compassion, then it will start a chain reaction of the same."

The Grafton Student Council with help from a few other organizations brought Craig Scott, Rachel's brother who also attended Columbine High School, to present in Grafton.

Craig Scott

The hands of Rachel

Don't let your character change color with your environment. Find out who you are and let it stay it's true color.

Rachel Scott

During the presentation Craig Scott asked the audience to stand up, put their arms around each other, and sway back and forth to "Lean On Me." This practice became a ritual for the Boys Varsity Soccer Team and at school wide assemblies.

Lean on me

MR. PANG VISITS GRAFTON HIGH

Through the Chinese-American exchange program, Mr. Pang who is a principle at the WuHu High School in China, came to visit Grafton High School. Through many of his trips around Grafton, Mr. Pang learned about the American educational system for Elementary, Middle, and High School students. Some of Mr. Pang's other trips included visiting the Grafton Senior Center, Town Hall, Police and Fire Stations, Library, Tufts Veterinary School, and many of the local Grafton businesses.

Graduation

"Let us be humble with our judgment and charitable with our beliefs, not so others can do the same unto us, but so we can look back in ten, fifty, a thousand years and truly like ourselves."

■ Shari Liu

"Don't be afraid of the future; be cautious of how you approach it. Never giving up means standing up after you fall, it means staying up all night to finish a paper, it means carrying on the messages that have been embedded into our lives here at GHS."

■ Amrit Judge

"The question is simple and goes something like this: WHO will you be? Not what will you be, but who. Who is the YOU that you will become, and who is the you that will be remembered by everyone. Just who are you? I hope the answer to this question will come to you in time, if it hasn't already; because in life it doesn't matter where you end up or what you do, but how you make use of being you."

■ Amy Leazes

"How you get to your happy ending is up to you, it is in your hands. The good endings exist somewhere, we just have to have the courage and determination to find them by learning from our mistakes; and now it seems that a mistake is never a mistake but rather a learning experience."

DESAI

Over the years you cultivated success. You have many inherent qualities that you skillfully strengthened to make a positive impact on the world around you. As a toddler, you organized the world around you by putting toys neatly away... (but over the years this skill has diminished?) As a preschooler, you belted out a primal scream when viewing a scary scene from Pocahontas... and now, NOTHING appears to scare you! It is hard to imagine that you were extremely shy in grade school. You hate butterflies, yet, just like a butterfly, you underwent metamorphosis and emerged confident and sociable. Words cannot express our pride and happiness to see you now. We hope you continue to use your gifts and talents to make a positive impact on the world around you.
Congratulations!
Love always,
Mom & Dad

Tim BURDSALL

As a baby, you brought love, joy, and laughter to our family. Now, you are a wonderful young man. You continue to delight everyone whose life you touch. You are kind, gentle, generous, and have a unique strength of spirit that draws others to you and makes all of us glad we are part of your life. As you go out into the world, know you are adored and that we are extremely proud of you. We are confident that you will achieve all that you dream of, and more. Heartfelt congratulations with all our love,
